PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Frank Simone is Vice President of SSIP and retired as a Detective after 28 years with the Toronto Police Service, where most of his service was spent in the investigative branch. Frank has a significant level of experience and expertise in interviewing techniques, major case management and investigation. He is also responsible for facilitating all threat and risk assessments, security awareness and training initiatives for SSIP, which have included Critical Incident/Emergency Response Management.

In company with his partner Steve Summerville, a recognized expert in the training requirements of police and security personnel they have developed and delivered programs on an local, national and international scale. He has considerable experience working with local and federal law enforcement as well as military authorities on an international level (from the RAF in United Kingdom to the Presidential Guard in Mexico to the US Secret Service to Austrian Polizei in Vienna. The wealth of experience in being able to liaise in an effective manner has proven very successful.

He is also is Vice-President of MACSIM Solutions Inc. and as a result brings a unique perspective to the security industry having developed and delivered software-based "Case Preparation" solutions for both the Toronto Police Service and Toronto Transit Security. As a result of his and his business partner James Mackrell's extensive knowledge and background in both law enforcement and security requirements for the effective

In addition, he was the Project Manager for the AIDS 2006 conference in Toronto as well as the Project Manager/Security Coordinator for the AIDS 2008 conference in Mexico City and has been retained to perform the same function for the AIDS 2010 conference in Vienna, Austria.

Areas of Expertise

Specialized Software Solutions Consulting and Development:

Responsible for the development of the original "Case Prep" computerized relational database system for the Toronto Police Service that was studies showed saved the equivalent of 100 man-years per annum. The computerized eCops/CIPS system currently in use with Toronto Police is based on the work performed by Frank and James Mackrell. In addition a similar program developed for the Toronto Transit security lead to similar savings for the Toronto Transit Commission's security services.

We have also been consulted in the development of handheld computerized law enforcement and private security reporting systems using the latest technology from touch screen to blackberry type protocols. As a result we bring the requisite expertise in a variety of disciplines to provide cost effective, cost saving solutions that meet the needs of law enforcement and security to deal with identifying, storing and retrieving relevant information on suspect criminal and terrorist activities. The recording and easy retrieval of suspected criminal activity can lead to innovate ways to deal with reporting and identifying terrorist actions and criminals.

Additionally, a wealth of experience in delivering training programs based on the computerized law enforcement and security specific software programs have been successfully delivered to both entities. We were responsible not only for the development for law enforcement but the training delivery for over 3,000 law enforcement and security professionals.

Training Development and Delivery

Frank has developed under Stay Safe Instructional Programs and in conjunction with Steve Summerville a number of security and law enforcement training programs that meet or exceed the government requirements (locally, Provincially and Federally).

He also has training and expertise in the following areas:

- Interviewing Techniques
- Critical Incident Response and Training
- Threat and Risk Assessment
- Managing Bomb Threats
- Fire and Explosives Investigations
- Major Case Management

STAY SAFE Instructional Programs Inc. – Toronto, Ontario.

September 2007 to present

Vice President – Operations.

- ~ Training: The duties of Vice President of Operations for Stay Safe Instructional Programs Inc. (SSI) includes the development and delivery of provincially mandated training programs to all Canadian security personnel in compliance with the Canadian General Standards Board (CGSB), Private Security and Investigative Services Act (legislated as of August 23rd, 2007) and other anticipated acts of consistent provincial legislation. Participants are educated in programs ranging from crisis management, effective communications, defensive tactics, use-of-force principles, provincial statutes, etc., in order to complete the basic training program as determined by “regulation”. Seminars, lectures and information sessions are also provided to government agencies, private industry, the insurance industry, legal firms and the public sector to inform them of the purpose and methods of the training and its applications.
- ~ Threat and Risk Assessments: Responsible for the conducting of threat and risk assessments in a variety of areas from physical security to policy and procedure implementations.
- ~ Special Event Management: The areas of special event management are an integral part of our function, from conducting security reviews and audits of facilities, reviewing emergency preparedness and evacuation plans, selecting security providers based on established credentials including licencing and training, preparing security plans, liaising with the stakeholders and the Emergency Services Providers (Police, Fire, EMS) as well overseeing the security functions required to maintain a safe event.
- ~ Emergency Preparedness Planning and Implementations: This area has grown significantly since the events of 9/11 and subsequent threats received. We conduct reviews of current security and emergency preparedness plans, emergency response procedures, and incident management protocols. As a result we develop, design and deliver completed Emergency or Critical Incident Preparedness Plans as well as training in the areas of Incident Management Systems using table-top and mock exercises. The current clientele includes a number of Colleges and Universities, the Canadian National Exhibition as well as hospitals and private companies. Frank is also a certified Arson and Fire Investigator and is responsible for SSI’s security audit program conducting numerous reviews of sites, buildings, policies and procedures in the areas of Emergency Preparedness, Incident Management and Security Awareness.
